EVERYONE SHOULD ATTEND SOME S. S. SUNDAY MORNING

Every Church In the County Makes Special Effort to liave More in Sunday School on Sunday Than On the Previous Year.

Special efforts have been made this week by every protestant church in Mayavillo and Mason county to have a large attendance at their Sunday Hanna. school on Sunday morning state-wide "Go-to-Sunday-School-Day."

Most every school in Maysville has had its committees busy for the past three weeks pledging attendance and indications are that the crowds will tax the capacity of the various buildings. The City Board of Education has very kindly opened the lligh achool building for the use of any down-town Sunday school that ennnot accomodate the crowds and it is thought that severai rooms in this building will he used as class rooms.

This is one doy in the year when every mnn, woman and child ahouid make n special effort to attend some Sunday school. There will he friendly rivalry between the schools as to attendance and every person is urged to attend the school of their choice. Of conrae, every church member is expected to attend Sundny school.

Many of the schools will have but one session, the Sunday school hour extending over into the church heur at which the pastor will make a short ad-No excuse will be accepted for those who remain away from Sunday school on next Sunday morning.

STATE EXCHANGE FOR KENTUCKY FARMERS

Commissioner of Agriculture Seuds Ont Blanks to Ascertain Needs Of Rural Inhabitants,

Frankfort, Ky., May 6. - Kentucky farmers will be given a chance to exchange or sell anything from a pair of shoes or a sewing machine to a mowing machine, a stalllon or a farm through the agency of a new department that is being inaugurated by Commissioner of Agriculture W. C.

The commissioner has just had blanks printed and is sending them to farmers throughout the state for listing of the things they want to seil, exchange or buy. A weekly publication carrying the ilsts of things for sale or the needs of the farmera will he issued and mailed to farmers on the mailing While the work will, for the present be confined to selling and exchanging between farmers, eventually it is hoped that it will work into a real marketing hureau where the producer and consumer will be brought directly together. There are no real markoting laws in Kentucky such as some other states have and the department has no way to check on supplies and prices after they leave the farm.

Some of the county farm bureaus, such as the Jefferson county organization, have been conducting exchange lists for months. In the publications, most of which are simply mimeograph sheets, the farmers list the things they want to sell and exchange such as setting of eggs, machinery, cows, hogs and herses and in fact nnything of use on the farm.
